LETTER FROM YAMHILL

LAFAYETTE, April 18 1871

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Court week in a country village where the higher judicial tribunals convene semi annually is always a time of general interest Lawyers and litigants, witnesses and jurors together with that class of persons who drift round with the multitude "waiting for something to turn up, assemble, and a general adjudication of past offences is had The week just ended has been

COURT WEEK IN LAFAYETTE.

The term has been one of unusual interest His Honor Judge Boise, who has so long held the scales of justice in this Judicial District, with honest and impartial hand has assured his friends that he will preside no more in that capacity having determined to resign before the time for holding our next term of Court. No man who has held important public position in this State ever retired leaving a more spotless reputation than will Reuben P Boise Several important civil cases and one criminal case appeared on the docket at the beginning of the term, and there has consequently been quite an array of legal talent present Messrs J N Dolph, W Lair Hill, W W Page, Charles A Ball, Jas G Chapman, J Catlin P C Sullivan Jas McLain, Ben Hayden G C Curl A Smith George B Curry George R Helm H Hurley, T B Handley, T A McBride, R Stott, A F Forbes and C E Bradshaw appeared as counsel for their respective clients was that of the trial of three Indians, Salamett Sla milk and Cawassa indicted for assaulting, with deadly intent, Millah, an Indian woman known among her tribe as a "medicine woman" From the evidence obtained from Indian witnesses it appeared that Millah had lost several patients during her professional career, and that according to an ancient law in the Indian code, she had been condemned to death by the mandate of Spencer, a Clickatat Chief now on the Simcoe Reservation The three young Indians on trial were commissioned as her executioners They proceeded to execute their Chief's command, and in doing so transgressed a law of the superior race" who, unfortunately for Poor Lo, have power to enforce their laws N L Butler, Prosecuting Attorney, acted for the State and Messrs. C A Ball of Portland, and R. Stott of this place, for the defense The evidence was conclusive as to the guilt of the prisoners yet their counsel labored with commendable energy and no ordinary degree of legal skill in their behalf Their efforts before the jury were generally remarked to be able and dignified The jury was out but a few minutes and returned with a verdict of guilty The prisoners were arraigned for sentence on Saturday at 10 o clock The usual question "Have you anything to say why the sentence of the law should not pass upon you?" was propounded whereupon the prisoners signified that they desired to be heard through Albert an old Indian who can speak passable English The following is as near as it could be written at the time of its deliverance, a correct version of

THE PRINCIPAL CRIMINAL CASE

ALBERT'S SPEECH

We are all here The boys are here the old woman is here and still alive and all my people are here We feel very good to day The Great man in Heaven, who made this land sees us and He knows we want to do right I want to say this I am a poor Indian but the Great man in Heaven made me he made this land and he made the white man Who did He put on this land? The Indian makes his own laws What does the white man know about the Indians' laws? Nothing Now, we want to do right. The boys' hearts never told them to kill the old woman Spencer told them to do it He done wrong he ought to have done it himself The old woman is very bad She kill many Indian men and children Four times the Indians have tried to kill her but she won t die Now, let the boys go May be they do so no more The Great man in Heaven sees them and knows their hearts are good

THE SENTENCE

Judge Boise then addressed the prisoners through Albert, telling them that they had transgressed the law, and that they must suffer the penalty He would not punish them as severely as he would white men because they were ignorant Were they white men, he would sentence them for twenty years If they ever committed another crime they would be dealt with the same as if they were white men The Indians must all learn that they must respect the law The sentence was then pronounced condemning two for two years each and one, Cawassa for one year to the Penitentiary

IN THE CELL.

The prisoners were conducted to the jail room in the basement of the Court House, and put in an iron cell in the center of the room after the fashion of a crockery crate The Indian friends of the prisoners and several white men were permitted to enter the room and converse with them One had a wife and young babe whom he kissed through the grates of the cell with every mark of affection The Indians all shed tears, save one Salamett. From the beginning of the trial, he had exhibited the utmost stoicism and preserved a mein worthy of one of Longfellow's finest characters But the time had come for him to speak The pent up feelings of his heart could be restrained no longer, and assuming an attitude which would have done honor to Logan Chief of the Mingoes, he burst forth in his own native vernacular in a strain of eloquence so wild and thrilling that all who heard him were awed into silence I have heard many of the ceremonies and pow wows of the Western Indians but have never heard anything that so fully illustrated the poet's ideal of

Through Albert, the interpreter I obtained the following translation of

SALAMETT'S SPEECH

Salamett is a Captain He was once as free as the birds Now his wings are gone Salamett is not afraid He never was a coward he obeyed his chief just as the white men obeyed their chief If he did wrong his chief is to blame Spencer's heart may be bad I don t know If I knew his heart was bad when he told me to kill the medicine woman I would kill him It would be right He ought not to tell his people to do wrong Salamett was born free he is now a slave He must bid his friends farewell He will see them no more He cannot be a slave Salamett will die"

THE SPEAKER

Ceased and resumed the cold calm demeanor which had characterized him through the trial He is unquestionably a remarkable character possessing in an eminent degree that native ability which rendered Blackhawk a terror to the pioneers of the Upper Mississippi valley Before leaving the subject of the Indian trial it might be well to state that the parties all claim to belong to the Simcoe Reservation The inquiry naturally arises What business have they in this valley Spencer, the instigator of the crime committed is said to profess conversion to Christianity If so I would respectfully commend him to Father Wilbur as a subject requiring the application of a little more regenerating grace

MISCELLANEOUS

In the somewhat famous case of M S Hart vs the McMinnville Ditch Company, judgment was rendered for plaintiff The case involving the title of the Lafayette town site was continued. J G Chapman attorney for Andy Shuck and W M Townsend in the late contested election case recovered judgment for twenty dollars against his late clients, being the remainder of the fee claimed for such legal services

The weather continues bad and farming interests suffer The P T Co steamer Dayton still runs up to McMinnville taking below three cargoes a week of flour and other products from the different towns on the river There is more inquiry after real estate in this county than ever before and several farms have changed hands recently The people are anxiously awaiting the commencement of the west side railroad when they expect the real estate and every other branch of business to revive in YAMHILL

The Black Sea

OFFICIAL RUSSIAN ACCOUNT OF THE SETTLEMENT OF THE QUESTION

The following remarkable article in the Government Messenger of St Petersburg gives the official Russian account of the settlement of the Black Sea question

"For fifteen years Russia has strictly fulfilled the obligations of the treaty of Paris onerous as some of them were for her dignity Meanwhile political events had made considerable changes in the provisions of this treaty, and in course of time the position of the European Powers in their relation toward each other had become essentially modified It was impossible for Russia to submit any longer to the restrictions which had been imposed on her on the Black Sea which bathes the Russian coast after the international relations of the other States had become so remarkably altered The Imperial Cabinet notified Europe by the Imperial Chancellor's circular of the 10th of October that it no longer considered itself bound by the restrictions relating to the Black Sea, and that his Majesty the Emperor had resumed his full Sovereign rights upon that sea, leaving at the same time the other Sovereigns free to resume their rights in their entire extent. Notwithstanding the violent and biased declarations of many organs of the European Press, the Great Powers which had signed the Treaty of Paris did not look upon our circular as a provocation addressed to Europe, nor as an indication of secret plans against her peace but as a frank and moderate notification, and they resolved, at the suggestion of the North German Confederation, to assemble in a conference for the purpose of bringing this notification of Russia into harmony with the Treaty of 1856 Our Cabinet gladly accepted the invitation to take part in this Conference more especially as in the circular of the 19th of October it had already been stated that His Majesty was disposed to conclude any new international agreement whose object it should be to strengthen the prospects of universal peace While securing the dignity of Russia the labors of the Conference were greatly impeded and delayed by the contemporary political events but from the very beginning all the Powers expressed a readiness to solve the questions in a spirit of peace and justice In yesterday's number of the Government Messenger a telegram was printed announcing that a new treaty had been signed at the London Conference which abolishes those articles of the Treaty of Paris that limited the sovereign rights of Russia and Turkey on the Black Sea There can be no doubt that not only all Russians but all friends of peace and justice will heartily rejoice at this work of European diplomacy It limits no one's rights It does not demand any sacrifices, while it has restored rights which had been violated, removed a symbol of international distrust and strengthened the intimate relations of the European States It is preeminently a work of peace and justice

THE EX EMPEROR TO MARSHAL MCMAHON —Marshal McMahon who is now in Paris has received a letter from the Emperor Napoleon, in which he says "At the moment of your return to France, it is my duty to recall to you the services of the army which was so unfortunately compelled to surrender at Sedan It is not just that the officers non commissioned officers and men who behaved so well in the different combats that took place, should be deprived of the promotions and rewards to which they are entitled Since I became a prisoner I have received several applications on this head I have felt a real regret not to be able to do justice to them for the army of Sedan fought well, and is the only one which has received no recompense I think it is your duty to prepare a memorial of applications for the soldiers who were under your orders, and submit them to the Minister of War on your arrival in France"

UNDESIRABLE ALLIANCE —A London correspondent writes A story which is popular among the sets who are averse to princesses marrying husbands who are not of the royal blood, is to the effect that the young lady was given the opportunity of seeing the available young peers of good character at a series of entertainments got up for the purpose, and that she at first gave her preference for the young Earl C——, who when he heard it, got so frightened that he proposed at once to a fair one with whom he had had a flirtation, and succeeded in hurrying up his marriage so as to be safe The Marquis of Lorne still hopes to be an independent member of the House of Commons, and to be able to mix in public life with such significance as he may win by his talents But he is mistaken He is practically cut off from all ways of political eminence

Among the new authors is Tennie C Claflin and some of her sentences are fearfully and wonderfully made In her book about constitutional rights, for instance we find this paragraph "We know there is a great amount of prejudice against women voting, in both sexes but we also know that it is simply prejudice—the same prejudice which all new developments of thought and science are always met by—and that it only requires to be met by a persistent presentation of the realities of the question to in time divest the people of it. It is well that we understand this programme in advance Any woman who votes in both sexes deposits two votes at the very least, leaving the early and often doctrine entirely out of the question

The English journals are delighted at ... enterprise according to our notions Thus for example Dr W H Russell conveyed his account of the German entry into Paris by special messenger to London involving the cost of two special railroad trains for a distance of 254 miles and the use of a steamboat for a trip of twenty two miles across the channel. This occupied ten hours and a half, and the news only reached London at the same time as it was conveyed by telegraph all over the United States Dr Russell never thought of using the wires himself

The Fresno, Cal., Expositor proposes a lottery scheme in San Joaquin valley to raise money to build a railroad through the valley from some point on the present road to Visalia All that is required it adds, is a few men who do not care for their reputations to take hold of the enterprise

The Mayor of Providence, Rhode Island has increased his own salary to three thousand dollars a year The vote in the council on the proposition was a tie, and His Honor felt in honor bound to stand by his friends so he gave his casting vote on their side

WASHINGTON CITY

Congressional

WASHINGTON, April 19 —On motion of Dawes the Senate request for a new conference committee on the deficiency bill was acceded to Dawes Cook and Niblack were appointed

The House report on the Ku Klux bill was discussed at length by Kerr, Beck, Brooks and Nye in opposition, and by Butler, of Massachusetts, Hoar and Perry in advocacy. The debate was interrupted by the presentation of the conference report on the deficiency bill The report was read and Holman made point of order that the item appropriating ten thousand dollars for expenses of the Sutro Tunnel commission, was not germane to anything in the bill, and that the conference committee had no right to put it in Dawes argued that it was germane to the item for the Carson City mint

The Speaker remarked that he was very loth to meet the conference committee with an adverse decision on a point of order He would therefore submit it to the House, and the point of order was sustained, thus practically rejecting the conference report The report was then re committed

The consideration of the conference report on the Ku Klux bill was resumed, and at the conclusion the house by a vote of 74 ayes and 106 nays, refused to receive the report, and another conference was ordered The Speaker appointed Shellabarger, Poland and Whitborn as the new conference committee on the Ku Klux bill

FRIDAY MORNING APRIL 21 1871

The Wallamet Valley

By the census taken last year the population of the counties lying in the Wallamet valley was ascertained to be as follows

Benton	4 584
Clackamas	[illegible] 993
Lane	6 426
Linn	[illegible]
Marion	[illegible]
Multnomah	11 510
Polk	4 710
Washington	4 [illegible]
Yamhill	4 [illegible]
Total	[illegible]

The Wallamet valley, proper has an area of fully 5,000 square miles Nearly the whole of this area is of unequalled fertility No extent of country of equal size can be found which has really so little poor land In fact we should not know where to find a single township of poor land in the entire valley Yet this extensive and fertile valley now has a population of but five persons to the square mile

The State of Connecticut has an area of 4 674 square miles It is therefore somewhat smaller than the Wallamet valley Its population by the last census was 537,417 The natural resources of the State of Connecticut are so small in comparison with those of the Wallamet valley, that no comparison of the two would do the latter justice A large part of the area of Connecticut is rocky and sterile It has little or no timber It has, indeed, advantages as a manufacturing State but does not surpass even in this respect the Wallamet valley If half a million people are able to support themselves by their industry in Connecticut, more than double that number can support themselves in the same way in this great valley of Oregon Its capabilities are wondrous and they will be unfolded in ways which most of the people now here little dream of

Add to the area of this valley the lands lying adjacent to it along the skirts of the mountains,—lands which will in a few years be occupied by industrious settlers and brought into cultivation, —and we shall have an aggregate area quite as large as the State of Massachusetts, namely, 7,800 square miles This area would also be nearly as great as that of the State of New Jersey Massachusetts has a population of one and a half million, nearly, and New Jersey a population of nearly one million We group these facts together for the consideration of those who begin to think that the Wallamet Valley is now about full of people and gravely express doubts as to where new comers are to find room

Rather Mysterious

On the 19th inst the Herald published a proclamation by the Governor, declaring that the Weekly Oregon Herald, published in this city was the [illegible] 'proclaimed to be appointed and confirmed as the [illegible] through which judicial and legal advertisements" for the counties of Washington Clatsop and Columbia should be published under the litigant law [illegible] evening of that day a discussion arose in the Common Council in this city over a letter sent in by the Herald proprietors, claiming the city printing under said law Mr Hal[illegible]ck pointed out that the Daily Herald had not been designated as the litigant organ for Multnomah county by the proclamation in the columns of that paper, and noted the distinction between city and county legal advertisements. The latter were to be published in [illegible] might be published in any paper the Council should designate Now what we desire to call attention to, particularly, in this connection, is this The Herald in its next issue after the meeting of the Common Council above referred to, that [illegible] of, yesterday (Thursday) morning, printed on its fourth page the proclamation, or what purported to be the proclamation of the Governor in regard to the [illegible] litigant organ, changing the whole tenor of the same from the form in which it was originally published In the first proclamation the Weekly Herald is designated as the litigant organ for Washington, Clatsop and Columbia counties in the [illegible] proclamation the Daily Herald is designated as the organ for the county of Multnomah. Has the Herald gone into the business of forging Executive proclamations in order to get this litigant printing business fixed up to its satisfaction? That paper now has an opportunity to rise to explain If there are two proclamations and both are genuine, how happens it that the Herald has published the first of them marked 'daily and [illegible] till forbidden,' but a single day?

Result of Recent Elections

The New York Herald remarks that the result of the Connecticut election has taken all the wind out of the sails of the lately jubilant Democracy It continues thus

> They gave too large a construction to their unexpected victory in New Hampshire We told them next morning that as an election gone by default it was "a tempest in a teapot" but they would see in it nothing less nor nothing else than the [illegible] of a sweeping political revolution So they expected to carry Connecticut as by a whirlwind, and in their own expressive expression, "they have come out of the little end of the horn

The Herald then goes to speak of the fact that recently there has been 'Republican thunder all round the sky' 'from a State election in Michigan, from municipal elections in Evansville Indiana Danville and Harrodsburg, Kentucky Annapolis and Towsontown, Maryland, and from Cleveland Cincinnati, Wooster and Akron Ohio all of which went Republican.' It says these elections fully justify the view that the Republican party is neither divided nor weakened It proceeds to comment in this manner on what it believes to be the main cause of this apparent general waking up of the Republicans since their New Hampshire defeat

> As the disastrous results of the first battle of Bull Run first astounded and then aroused the dormant energies of the North so this Republican defeat in New Hampshire appears to have operated upon this party But their New Hampshire defeat would have hardly served to divert the rank and file of the Republicans from their petty personal quarrels and factious cross purposes had not the rejoicing Northern Democracy encouraged by their loud crowing the old South its school of fire-eaters and the Ku Klux Klans with their outrageous doings, to come to the front It is notorious that since the New Hampshire election the so called Southern Ku Klux Klans have been bolder in their lawless operations than they were before We have evidence of this in the appeal of the Governor of South Carolina to the President for military assistance, and in the proclamation of General Grant on the subject and in the message of Governor Alcorn, of Mississippi to his Legislature, calling for authority to employ the militia and to levy taxes upon any county afflicted with Ku Klux atrocities requiring the militia to suppress them, These things together with the outspoken repudiation of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments by Southern fire-eating journals and orators, have told upon Connecticut and in all the widely scattered elections elsewhere on Monday last The old issues of the war being revived again the Republicans, sinking all side issues have come up to the work on the main question

On Sunday night two weeks ago Mr Jefferson Davis arrived at Selma Ala from Montgomery

The Selma Press, in describing his reception says that, after a levee at his hotel which was largely attended and a serenade enlivened with the [illegible] music of the Southern Confederacy Mr Davis was called out upon the balcony and addressed the crowd for about ten minutes In the course of his speech he declared in an exultant tone, that "State sovereignty, although defeated in the late struggle will ultimately triumph" "He has always been willing to give his life for his people, and now if any Yankee power wanted his blood to atone for any action of the Southern people they could take it" "He never had asked pardon for what he had done, and never would, for he felt that he had done no wrong' The Selma Press attributes the hopeful State sovereignty tone of this speech to the inspiration of the New Hampshire election, and commends its consideration to that portion of the Northern press and people which has been led to believe that the cause of the rebellion is a dead issue in the minds of leading men at the South"

This speech of Jefferson Davis was perfectly natural under the circumstances and of itself it means nothing But here is the difficulty Davis and most of his Southern confederates look to the Democracy of the North to restore them their State Sovereignty with its right of secession and the Northern Democracy are encouraging their old Southern allies in this idea that the issues settled by the war will be upset with the election of a Democratic President and Congress Do the Democracy desire another battle upon these issues? If they do they are beyond redemption Their only course of safety and their only way to success lies through a frank acknowledgment that they accept and will abide by the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments

The Herald like many other papers makes the mistake of supposing that the Democratic party could make a frank acknowledgment to this effect, and abide by it The party exists only on Jeff. Davis "State sovereignty idea, with its right of secession If it cuts loose from that the tap root of Democracy is cut and the party dies It simply obeys a law of its existence in contending for the principle which Jeff Davis advocated in his recent speech at Selma The people see this now even more clearly than they saw it during the rebellion Hence anything more than an occasional local and temporary triumph for the Democratic party is impossible

The Roseburg Plaindealer (a Democratic paper) thinks that Connecticut, which has been carried by the Republicans has done extremely well for its party 'when we take into consideration the near proximity of the State to New York City' Were not this uttered with apparent candor by the Plaindealer we should certainly take it for sarkasm

The fighting at Paris is in the western and southwestern portions of the city and in the suburbs in those localities Neuilly, the point most frequently mentioned in the dispatches as the scene of repeated conflicts, is west of the city some little distance outside of the walls. Fort Valerian lies across the river Seine nearly opposite Neuilly

Has France Gained by the Overthrow of the Empire

The following well considered article is from the New York Tribune of the 4th inst

The chances of the Versailles Government seem to improve, but there is little question that they will find themselves, after they take possession of Paris, in presence of one of the most problems with which any disagreeable French Government has yet had to deal The Reds will be disarmed, but they will be still there, and very hungry and very mutinous, and they will still continue to publish such pleasing and instructive periodicals as The Cry of the People, The Iron Mouth The Avenger These papers are small, dirty sheets, filled with blasphemy and indecency, and attacks on property and religion In most countries they would hardly live a week, or if they did live would only be read for amusement But one of the peculiarities of the Red mind is that it takes all this disgusting trash in sober earnest, and a week's reading makes a Belleville or La Villette republican ready to shoulder his musket and 'descend into the streets,' as he calls raising a riot, for the purpose of embodying the ideas contained in these publications in the political system of the country, and if you asked him why he thought it his duty to take this very violent step he would be able to give you no better reason than that he saw in print that it was a good thing to do

Now, this being the effect of the liberty of the Press on the French mind, it is impossible for any Government in France to let the Press alone No matter how liberal the regime that may be set up, it is sure not to be liberal enough for the Radicals, nor would any regime be which did not arrange for a fair division of property every Monday morning and the presence of the constituents into all debates of the Legislature armed with power of peremptory dissolution or adjournment of the body Consequently the Radical Press is sure to assail it violently, and to irate the Reds to active resistance The Radical papers will therefore have to be suppressed, and, of course once the Government takes upon itself to suppress newspapers for any reason there is no telling when to stop, or where to draw the line After having put down the Bouche de Fer for advocating resistance to all Government of course official censors will be disposed to put all criticism of the Government as hostile to order, and to bring the journal Des Debats and the Presse under the same rule as the dirty sheets of the Faubourg St. Antoine, and then we have one of the worst features of the Empire restored, and one of the most valuable guarantees of liberty and economy destroyed. The effect of such restrictive measures, too is of course more damaging to a Republican than a monarchical Government Every Government has to keep up some show of adhesion to its own principles and the liberty of the Press is of course one of the chief articles in the Republican creed, so that a Republican Government which repudiates it is in some sort guilty of self stultification

Take, also, the question of the standing army We presume there is nobody now who shares Gen Trochu's amiable belief that the Parisians can be governed by 'moral force' It is quite plain that for some time to come they will have to be governed by brute force Paris will have to be garrisoned by about one hundred thousand men, and the population will have, as of yore, to be disarmed and the Government will have to rely on this force for police duty to a degree which must to a greater or less degree subordinate the civil to the military authorities, and make the General in command of the troops the most important person in Paris Now there has never yet been a Republic, or even a constitutional monarchy which was able to endure the presence of a large military force concentrated in its capital, and for the avowed purpose of keeping down the people Countries in which constitutional Government is as deeply rooted in the popular affections and habits as the United States or England or Hungary could hardly stand this still less can a country in which the people are entirely unused to popular Government and in which Democratic assemblies rule by just the same method and instruments as military dictators Among the first things done by all parties in France which get into the ascendant is to suppress newspapers and shoot defeated opponents and such a thing as a Government which had a large standing army at its disposal and did not use it to cow or crush opposition is something of which few Frenchmen have, as yet any idea A French General in command of a large armed force and yet feeling his subordination to the civil power and respecting it, is a very rare bird also —in fact, if he did not appear in Gen Cavaignac it would be difficult to say when or where he did appear or when he will appear again Any French General of this or the next generation who knows that the Legislature is dependent on him for protection against being turned out of doors is hardly likely to respect it

These two difficulties met or temporized with as they probably will be there would still remain another, and this also an immense one—the question of the form of Government The Assembly was monarchical when it met, it is now more monarchical than ever The scare caused by Gambetta's performances has been deepened and intensified by the recent events in Paris Any doubts which the country members might have had about the advisability of having a republic will have been dissipated by the establishment of the Universal Republic in Paris and the melancholy days they have passed in Versailles and the terror in which all persons having property are now living in Paris, have probably deepened their horror of Democratic Government Of course there will be much disputing and intriguing about the choice of a monarch, but the choice will be, after all, between Bourbon and Orleanist and the return of either of these will madden the Republicans, and make the Government of the towns a serious task to the new dynasty A new dynasty without antecedents, absurd as it would be in France of all countries in the world would in some ways promise better than the return of any of the old ones But new dynasties are no longer likely It would take a Napoleon to create one and if the present troubles do not throw a new 'Savior of Society' to the surface the country will probably throw itself back into the arms of Henry V or the Count de Paris The title 'Savior of Society,' as applied to poor Louis Napoleon by the way does not look so ridiculous as it did a year or two ago Most men now acknowledge bad as the Empire was it at least kept off a worse thing—The Universal Republic

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 21, 1871.

CITY.

BRIDGE ACROSS THE WALLAMET.—The following was handed in yesterday, and we publish it as we received it, though it is certainly a little stale. We will take occasion to inform the parties concerned that we should have been pleased to publish the matter last Wednesday morning, and would have done so had not their meeting been so private that only one newspaper got wind of it. We publish it now, two days after we ought to have had it, simply and only because we stand ready and willing at all times to aid in this way, and by good words, every important enterprise tending to the material interests of the city: [illegible] invitation from the Board of [illegible] Bridge Company, a number of [illegible] and wealthy citizens [illegible] and East Portland met on Tuesday [illegible] at the office of H. Boyd, Esq., for consulting and devising plans to [illegible] of the much-needed improvement, [illegible] wagon bridge across the Wallamet at this place.

[illegible] was called to the chair, and [illegible] was chosen secretary.

Dr. Loryea, Secretary of the Portland Bridge [illegible], exhibited and explained the map of [illegible] survey of the bed of the river for a distance of [illegible] up and down opposite the two cities, which was surveyed by Lieut. Huer, under the direction of Maj. Williamson, specially detailed for that purpose by the Honorable Secretary of War, pursuant to the act of Congress [illegible] right to erect such a bridge. He [illegible] plan for a Howe Truss Bridge, [illegible] feet in length, with one railroad [illegible] roadways, and two (one on [illegible]) [illegible] maps, prepared by [illegible] engineer and contractor who built a [illegible] over the Sacramento river at [illegible]. After appropriate remarks by [illegible] present as to the necessity and immediate action, a committee of [illegible] to solicit subscriptions to the [illegible] of the Company and to publish an [illegible] forth the object and the details of [illegible] improvement. The committee [illegible] the following gentlemen: J. A. [illegible], E. J. Northrup, J. Kamm, John P. [illegible], D. Monastes, J. B. Upton, C. P. [illegible].

[illegible] THEATER.—The Herald reporter [illegible] remark upon the close of the Bates [illegible] at Oro Fino Theater:

[illegible] good company from San Francisco [illegible] the Theater, with new pieces and [illegible] and scenery, it could play [illegible] weeks to a fine business at the [illegible] sion to all first-class places of [illegible].

[illegible] implied meaning of the above quo[illegible] unjust to the late management [illegible]. Mr. Bates is the first theatrical [illegible] who ever came to Portland, and put a [illegible] anything like good shape; the first man [illegible] conducted a theater for even a "few [illegible]" in such style as to make it a first-class [illegible] tainment; the first man who ever [illegible] new and appropriate scenery; and no [illegible] its pieces more appropri[illegible] with a more costly and various wardrobe. [illegible] had known from what a [illegible] condition Mr. Bates brought [illegible] to what it is now, we are certain he [illegible] used language having an insin[illegible] so unjust as that which we have [illegible]. As to new pieces, there are very few of [illegible] in the legitimate drama which have not [illegible], and, in our judgment, it will be [illegible] before a new company from San [illegible], or anywhere else, will produce pieces [illegible], or even equal, uniform, good style, [illegible] ever did show anything like as good [illegible] properties or dress; and no company [illegible] itself here for a quarter so long a [illegible]. With all the circumstances the company [illegible] to a vast deal of credit, in every way [illegible] have done; and when our people [illegible] a few months' experience with itinerant and shoddy dramatic companies, they [illegible] to realize the worth of the company [illegible] now closed its season. The jour[illegible] constantly puffs such a place of amusement [illegible] "Opera House" (!) and dis[illegible] meritorious, legitimate, dramatic [illegible] such a notice as we have quoted [illegible] in any immediate danger of being [illegible] just criticism or intelligent appre[illegible].

STREET IMPROVEMENT. — The [illegible] along Washington street and on [illegible] of King's creek, are interested in [illegible] improved to its intersection with [illegible], was some time ago pre[illegible] Council and referred to the Com[illegible] and Public Property. The [illegible] in favor of the improvement, [illegible] owners would subscribe [illegible] for a bridge across the canyon. If the [illegible] on this condition it will be tanta[illegible] of the proposed improvement, [illegible] is not likely to be subscribed. [illegible], at the request of the [illegible], has prepared a plan for a good [illegible] bridge, so constructed as to [illegible] raised in case the street grade [illegible] be elevated at B street, and he has [illegible] the cost of the construction—not to [illegible] and he is willing to take the [illegible] for that sum. If the property owners [illegible] contribute toward the improvement in [illegible] to those along the other improved por[illegible] street, there certainly will not be any [illegible] to be raised. The Council ought [illegible] its terms, at all events, to the actual [illegible] and above the usual proportionate levy [illegible] property, and let the people have [illegible].

[illegible] DELEGATIONS.—Drs. Carpenter, Payton [illegible], and others of Salem, arrived down [illegible] to take the steamer for San Francisco, [illegible] are going to attend two important [illegible]. The first is a convention [illegible] colleges of the United States, which [illegible] Friday, the 28th inst., at San Fran[illegible]. Drs. Carpenter and Payton will attend [illegible] representatives of the medical depart[illegible] of the Wallamet University. The second is [illegible] of the American Medical Asso[illegible]. Drs. Belt and Warriner, of Salem, are [illegible] to this association from the Medi[illegible] of the Third Judicial District of [illegible]. Drs. Carpenter and Payton will attend [illegible] also. It will meet on Tuesday, [illegible] at San Francisco. Dr. Carpenter being [illegible] of the Committee of Arrangements and [illegible] to do so, has extended invitations to [illegible] of medical gentlemen of this city, who [illegible] members of any association, and who [illegible] could get admission only through an [illegible]. We are not advised as to whether [illegible] will attend.

RESIGNED AFTER ALL.—It appears that [illegible] "good of the service" constrained the Gov[illegible] to refuse the privilege of resignation to [illegible] Gen. O. F. Bell. We had supposed that [illegible] Wiley had duly succeeded, accord[illegible] the forms, to the honors of the office, but [illegible] not to be. Capt. Joseph was one of "them [illegible] fellows," and we suspect that in one way [illegible] that fact may be made to account for [illegible] in the cocoanut—not that the Governor [illegible] either the one or the other faction, [illegible] that the "t'other fellows" couldn't tamely see [illegible] and of the "brigade" drop into the [illegible] of an "Oro Fino fellow." Isn't that why [illegible] was withdrawn?

[illegible]'s Planting and Training of the Christian Church, by the Apostles; A Serious Call to a Holy Life, by William Law, M. D.

Army Life on the Pacific, by Lawrence Kip.

Lectures to Young Men, by Wm. G. Eliot, jr.

[illegible]'s Geographical and Chronological Illustration of the Holy Scriptures.

Captain Cook's Voyages, in two volumes, with maps and illustrations, have been purchased by [illegible] and placed in the Library.

WEST SIDE RAILROAD MAP.—On Wednesday, [illegible] of the West Side Railroad, as actually surveyed by the Oregon Central Railroad Co., was [illegible] in the office of the Secretary of State. It shows the location of the line from Portland to the Yamhill river, near McMinnville, and also a [illegible] of the branch road to Astoria.

MAKING FOUNDATION.—One of the railroad [illegible]'s heavy pile drivers was at work yesterday driving piles on which to found the company's large office building. The ground at that place is all "made land" for several feet deep; [illegible] necessity for pile-driving.

AN OBSTINATE LEAKY CISTERN.—Chief Engi[illegible] informs us that the cistern at the [illegible] of Seventh and B streets is again [illegible]. It was not long since cleaned out, ce[illegible] and filled.

AMUSEMENTS.

BENEFIT TO MISS NELLIE CUMMINGS.—The delay of the steamer affording the opportunity, a complimentary benefit has been tendered Miss Nellie Cummings, to take place at Oro Fino Theater this evening. The beneficiary will produce for the occasion two fine comedies—"The Swiss Cottage," and "Rough Diamond"—with an excellent musical and variety melange in which a number of volunteers will appear. All the members of the Oro Fino Dramatic Company, with possibly one or two exceptions, will assist in the entertainment. This will be the last appearance of Mr. Vinson and others of the old company, as the steamer will sail to-morrow.

BENEFIT TO JAS. COOK AND JOHNNY HOLTON.—Saturday evening, Mr. James Cook and Johnny Holton will appear for a benefit at Oro Fino Theater, in a variety bill. We are informed that several artists have volunteered for the occasion.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LITERARY INTELLIGENCE.—John Esten Cooke's "Life of General Lee," just issued from the press of D. Appleton & Co., is an elaborate biography, including an accurate but dramatic and picturesque history of those military transactions in Virginia of which General Lee was the distinguished leader. This "Life of General Lee" was commenced five years ago, (in 1866), and the author then informed General Lee of his purpose. The General, in reply, assured him of his sanction, and subsequently gave his approval of the work up to the period of his death. This history is intended to furnish such material facts as will enable the American historian to make an unimpeachable record of these events which plunged the nation into civil commotion. A work of this description will be useful to every citizen, and is necessary to a full understanding of the great subject which must long occupy the public mind. It is prepared by a man of large literary experience who served in the Virginia campaign and saw much of what he describes; and General Lee's sanction of his design arose from his knowledge of Col. Cook's peculiar fitness for the task. The work is complete in one large octavo volume, has two fine steel portraits of General Lee and one of Stonewall Jackson, with illustrations, maps and plans of battles. Sold by subscription only. Price in cloth, extra, $5; library leather, $6; half morocco, $7. An agent will soon give the citizens an opportunity to subscribe. See advertisement.

LIFE INSURANCE AGENCY.—It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, that Mr. J. G. Meserve and W. A. Upton, of this city, have taken the agency for Oregon and Washington Territory for the Ætna Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn. Messrs. Meserve & Upton have taken an office, where all business of the company in this State and adjoining Territory will be duly attended to. The Ætna is one of the oldest and strongest life insurance companies in the United States, with an accumulated capital of over fifteen million dollars, and an annual income of more than six million dollars. The agency here is in good hands. Mr. Upton is a well known citizen, and Mr. Meserve has for several years conducted the business of an agency with entire acceptability to the company.

RIVER STEAMER COMING FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamboat Annie Stewart, recently purchased by Capt. Gilman and others of this city, started from San Francisco yesterday for the Columbia river. Capt. Gregory, lately in command of one of the N. P. T. Co.'s steamships, has charge of her for the trip. The Annie Stewart was built a few years since for an opposition boat, ran two trips, and has since been lying up under subsidy, till sold to the Portland parties. She is said to be remarkably fast. It is the purpose of the present owners to run her on the trade between Portland and Astoria. If her trip at sea should prove pleasant and without accident, she will be due here about next Monday.

There was a gloom among the Democrats in the New York Legislature on hearing of the Connecticut election. They had been loudly predicting 2,500 Democratic majority, and much money had been staked on the result. To add to the gloom a Republican member caused to be read, right on the heels of the clergyman's prayer, the following telegram, purporting to have come from that sinful place called New Haven:

To the New York Senate: Connecticut has gone Republican. Democratic victories only come at long intervals, like the seventeen year locusts and the Asiatic cholera.

NEW HAVEN.

SPRING STYLES.—KOHN & FISHEL, as usual, are the first to fill their store with the new Spring Styles of Clothing and Furnishing Goods. Their stock is very large, and their goods of the best quality, and latest styles. Messrs. Kohn & Fishel buy their goods in large quantities, consequently, get them at low rates and can afford to sell cheap, which they intend to do.

They respectfully invite their friends and patrons to give them a call.

Go to O'Neil & Co's, if you want a coat
Made of wool, from the finest sheep or Cashmere goat,
Or the best fitting pants, or the nicest vest—
There's where you will always get the very best.
They have all kinds of goods that gentlemen need,
Cloth, silk, cashmere, cattore, linen and tweed—
If you'll all get a suit and plank down the cash
They'll sell to you cheap if it breaks them to smash!

BARBOUR'S LINEN THREAD
BARBOUR'S LINEN THREAD
BARBOUR'S LINEN THREAD

BARBOUR'S LINEN THREAD is made from the finest quality of IRISH FLAX and is unequalled for strength and evenness of Thread.

If you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples and Blotches, purify your blood by the use of Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery. It has no equal for this purpose, nor as a remedy for severe Coughs or Bronchitis. Sold by druggists. To avoid counterfeits see that it has upon the outside wrapper, Dr. Pierce's private Stamp, issued by the U. S. Government expressly for stamping his medicines and which bears his portrait, name and address upon it.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—Weather cool and clear. Wind northwest.

Joseph Mancilla, a Chilenian, was arrested this evening in the act of making a savage assault upon his wife.

Cook had not finished speaking when the Court adjourned this evening. He will resume at 10 A. M. to-morrow, and Byrne will not get through until some time on Saturday.

An immense number of people to-day visited the scene of the Peterson tragedy near Bernal Heights, and there is a constant rush of morbid sensation-seekers to Lockhart's undertaker's rooms on Market street, where the bodies await the action of the Coroner. It is uncertain when the inquest will be held. The corpse of the murdered woman, dressed with exquisite taste in a robe of fine silk material, with the insignia of the Catholic faith around and upon it, is lying (as if it were in state) in the rear room of the establishment, and some thirty women and nearly as many men are kneeling or sitting around it, while others are coming and going all the time. The scene is a remarkable and striking one, though a painful one to witness.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

LOS ANGELES, April 20.—The Los Angeles and San Bernardino stage line has been purchased by Holladay & Brenham. James Stewart, an old overland stage man, has been appointed general superintendent.

Mr. and Mrs. Wears, tourists from the east, while out riding yesterday their horses became frightened, and ran away, upsetting the buggy and throwing the occupants out. Mrs. Wears was severely but not seriously injured.

The contract has been let to Gen. Banning to build fifty miles of railroad from Los Angeles to connect with the coast route, the work to be completed within twelve months.

GILROY, April 20.—Workmen have commenced grading on the Southern Pacific Railroad four miles south of this place. The work will be pushed forward vigorously.

SANTA CRUZ, April 20.—The jury in the Freels murder case to-day returned a verdict of not guilty.

On the 4th inst. Republican Mayors were elected in Milwaukee (Wis.) and Jacksonville (Ill.) Both cities have heretofore been strongly Democratic. Dubuque, Iowa, another Democratic city, was carried by the Republicans on the same day.

Be Guided by what you Know.

There is an old proverb which says, "Experience is the safest guide." To this guide the sick and ailing naturally turn when casting about for the means of relief. They inquire what a medicine has done for others, before they adopt it themselves. Of all the remedies and preventives in use, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters meets the test most triumphantly, and hence its immense popularity and vast sales. The sufferer from indigestion is sure to find some one among his friends who has been cured of that [illegible] by the famous vegetable stomachic. The victim of fever and ague, liver complaint, constipation, nervous prostration or general debility, has only to make inquiry in the neighborhood where he resides in order to discover what this standard restorative has effected in cases similar to his own. In the published testimony to its merits he will find a volume of proofs of its sanitary properties, which it is impossible for his common sense to resist. He tries it, and the effect it produces on his system adds another to the host of witnesses in its favor. Thus, its reputation, founded on facts not assertions, continually grows and spreads. Charlatans and impostors, some of them mere local tricksters, and others who take a somewhat wider range, attempt to thrust into the hands and down the throats of invalids, their haphazard concoctions, as substitutes for the tonic which for so many years has been a medicinal staple throughout the United States, Spanish America, Canada and the West Indies, but only succeed to a very limited extent. In this reasoning age, the people, having ascertained what is really deserving of their confidence, decline "running after strange gods."

A HOUSEHOLD BLESSING.

One that no family should be without. Very warming, very penetrating, very strengthening, very effective. A never-failing remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Pleurisy, Sore Throat, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Swellings, Stiff Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Headache, Toothache, Earache, Pain in the Breast, Lame Back and all Lameness and Pain. Such is PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL. Price, large, $1 00; small, 50 cents. For sale by all druggists. Ask for PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL, and take no substitute.

PRATT'S NEW LIFE

The famous Vegetable Blood Purifier and Liver Invigorator, thoroughly purifies the blood, speedily cures Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Heals old sores and ulcers and eradicates from the system all humors and disorders arising from impure blood. It stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, strengthens the whole system, operates mildly on the bowels, allaying all internal inflammation, and is the best Purifying, Regulating and Invigorating Remedy in the world. Price, $1 00. For sale by all druggists.

BRET HARTE

HIS ENGAGEMENT WITH OSGOOD AND CO

[illegible] a letter to the Sacramento Union

I wrote you some two or three weeks ago that James R. Osgood & Co had made a contract with Bret Harte, by which they secured the exclusive command of his literary services for the benefit of their periodicals for a specified time. Ever since the bargain was made the gossips have been on the qui vive to find out what its terms were. The matter has been kept pretty close, but it is one of those things which must leak out sooner or later. The first rumor was to the effect that Osgood & Co had agreed to pay Harte $25,000 per year, but the wise ones couldn't "see" this and it was universally doubted. The next rumor took more authentic shape, and declared that the consideration to be paid Harte was $15,000. Such is the fact, though rumor did not state the case fully. As I understand the matter, Osgood & Co agreed to pay Harte a salary of $10,000 per year for his contributions to the Atlantic Monthly and Every Saturday (they agreeing to pay him copyrights on the books to be made of his contributions to their periodicals, sufficient to bring his annual stipend up to $15,000). That, it seems to me, is a very fair salary for a young man, and should encourage all ambitious Eastern youths, of a literary turn of mind, to emigrate to California and spend a few probationary years in its fastnesses awaiting a summons home to fame and fortune. There is a little secret history about this engagement of Harte, which may be interesting to some of your readers. The only competitors for his services—setting Chicago out of the question—were Harper & Brothers and Osgood & Co. Now, there is no love lost between these two firms, and they neglect no opportunity to favor one another with a dig in the ribs. The Harpers, upon learning of Harte's approaching advent at the East, took counsel [illegible] ference to his case and decided that [illegible] would either get him for themselves or [illegible] successful bidder for him to pay a [illegible] ous price for the bargain. So, having [illegible] buck' at the distinguished stran[illegible] passed through New York on route to Boston they plumply offered him a salary of $10,000 to take a desk in Franklin square. Probably Harte asked for time to consider the offer, at any rate he did not at once accept it, but proceeded to Boston to finger the other string of his bow. When Osgood & Co proposed—as rumor says they did, at first—to [illegible] $ [illegible] sponde [illegible] anaged to seen [illegible] dvantage [illegible] suffered to rest her [illegible] the [illegible] sions of Harper & Brothers during the coming year, they will discover that, in the opinion of the editors of those publications, Harte is not so great a writer as he might be. 'For ways that are dark,' etc., the modern publisher is peculiar. Professor Lowell, I hear, says that he doesn't like Harte's "dialect poems, and hopes he will drop them, but he believes Hart possesses poetical powers which he will turn to account in another less objectionable direction.

GENTILITIES.

Janesville, Wisconsin, is noted for its smart boys. The latest story is told of a youth of six summers, who was taken to jail by his aunt for some supposed offense which he persistently denied. "Now, Johnnie," said she, "I know you are not telling me the truth, I see it in your eye." Pulling down the lower lid of the organ which had well nigh betrayed his veracity, Johnnie exultantly replied, "You can't tell anything about it, aunt, that eye always was a little streaked."

A good anecdote is told of a painter's son, who used the brush dexterously, but he acquired the habit of putting it on too thick. FINANCE AND COMMERCE

[illegible] Portland, Thursday, April 20, 1871

Gold at New York, 110⅞.

[illegible] quotations 90½c buying 91@91½c selling. [illegible]—On San Francisco, ½ per cent, on New York, 1½ per cent, telegraphic transfers 1½ per cent.

Interest on 30 to 90 day loans, 1 per cent outside rates are [illegible] per cent.

The demand for money for real estate investments still continues, but without affecting the rates of interest. The supply for legitimate business purposes [illegible] to meet the demand.

The merchandise market is rather active, all lines enjoying a fair degree of prosperity. Spring and early summer goods are moving off in quantities far beyond anything known in the corresponding period of former years. Stocks are full all round, and our importers and wholesale dealers are offering at prices which are found more favorable to the buyer than to purchase in other supply markets and pay freight. This course has been pursued for the last year, and its happy results in securing almost the entire trade of the interior, are now visible in a largely increased business

We have but few changes to note in prices in any line. We present a revised table of agricultural implements which will be found to embrace all the leading and favorite farm machines in the market

Wheat has again advanced a little and the demand is good, very little, however, is obtainable at any price as the farmers are now busy with the spring crops [illegible] market [illegible] of produce or provisions can be expected in the market till the cropping season shall have passed. Flour—All leading extra brands are held firm at $7 per bbl. But less are not buying a great deal of wheat, and the manufacture for the next three or four months will probably be inconsiderable as compared with last year.

There is a fair demand for Bacon at our quotations. Lard is firm, with a slight tendency upward. Butter has declined materially.

In the retail market flour has been marked up 12½c per quarter sack. Green apples and dried fruit of all kinds are considerably higher.

Cheap Water Pipe.

"THE ASPHALTUM PRESSURE PIPE COMPANY" of San Francisco having purchased of the patentees the sole right to manufacture on this Coast, are now making an article at their works, at Alameda Point, that will supply the general want of a cheap and durable water pipe. The invention originated in France, where these pipes are extensively used, as well as in Germany. In fact, all over Europe, almost entirely superseding, for all ordinary purposes, the use of iron. It is no new thing, having been in use twenty years

Its Durability.

Being imperishable and insensible to atmospheric influences or chemical properties of the earth it never changes, and is consequently much more durable than iron, which corrodes and in time leaks

It is a Non-Conductor,

And will not freeze except at a remarkably low temperature and even then its expansive power is greater than that of frozen water. In warm weather it acts as a cooler for water passing through it

Neutrality to Acids and Alkalis.

This pipe is not affected by acids and alkalis nor is it affected by galvanic currents—consequently it is invaluable in conducting telegraph wires under ground through tunnels and under bridges

Elasticity.

The elasticity of this pipe prevents its bursting from outward shocks or concussions. The interior of the pipes being glazed, are as smooth as porcelain, and consequently are never clogged by adhering sediment

Lightness.

The mean weight of these pipes to iron is as one to five, which not only facilitates handling, but reduces the cost of transportation

Laying the Pipe

Is a simple matter—can be laid by any laboring man of ordinary intelligence but the Company, if required, will always furnish a competent person, free of expense, to oversee the proper laying of the pipe. Contracts taken for any required length of pipe from water or mining companies, and warranted to stand according to contract

Pipe Under Pressure

Can be seen at the office of the Company. We are the only parties manufacturing this pipe on the Pacific Coast under this patent. All other offered is spurious and an infringement

Cheapness.

The cost when laid, including connections, is about one quarter that of lead and one half that of iron
We manufacture this pipe in lengths of twelve feet and ship it everywhere, by all sorts of conveyances—no special care being required. We manufacture it of any size from one to twelve inches

Pressure.

We manufacture according to the pressure required from 1 to 600 pounds to the inch, and guarantee it to stand the pressure
